Factors which may adversely impact to the performance

Credit Risk

The Company is exposed to credit risk primarily with respect to factoring receivables, loans receivable and other receivables. The Company manages the risk by adopting appropriate credit control policies and procedures whereby the Company analyses credit details of clients and customers and follows up customers with overdue accounts in accordance with credit control practices. These have been handled by two divisions for mitigation credit risk, Credit Evaluation and Debt Recovery Divisions

Interest Rate Risk

The Company's exposure to interest rate risk relates primarily to its cash at banks, factoring receivables, loans receivable, other receivables, bank overdrafts and short term loans from financial institutions. The Company mitigates this risk by matching the sources of borrowings with factoring receivables to ensure that the Company maintains an accumulated average spread of interest under the Company's policy. Moreover, the Company analyses the term of interest rate movement of factoring receivables, borrowings and the Company adjusts the interest rate charge to receivables when the interest rate changes. Thus, the Company is flexible in its response to interest rate fluctuations. In addition, since most of the Company's financial assets and liabilities bear floating interest rates or fixed interest rates which are close to the market rate, the interest rate risk is expected to be minimal.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will be unable to liquidate its financial assets and/or procure sufficient funds to discharge its obligations in a timely manner, resulting in the Company incurring a financial loss. The Company has established a liquidity management policy, to ensure that the Company has sufficient liquidity to meet debt and other obligations when due in normal circumstances, and has the liquidity contingency plans in place to handle crisis situations, as well as to ensure that management of liquidity strikes an appropriate balance between costs and benefits.

Please be informed accordingly.

Yours faithfully
